THE DEATH SENTENCE

Cale Powers Convicted This Morning at Georgetown.

Tried By His Political Enemies He Is Again Found Guilty of Murder.

ARGUMENT CLOSED LAST NIGHT

Georgetown, Ky., August 29—Cale Powers, former secretary of state, was today found guilty by the jury of complicity in the assassination of Senator Goebel and his punishment was fixed at death. The verdict created considerable surprise, as it was generally believed that a hung jury would result.

This is the third time he has been convicted, having been given life sentences before. Owing to the manner of getting the jury, the politics of the jurors, and the perjury of some of the commonwealth's witnesses, which in many cases was fully but futilely exposed, many did not expect anything but conviction. A new trial will be asked at once and if not granted an appeal will be taken as in the other cases.

The argument closed last night. Powers declared to the jury that the star witness of the commonwealth, Wharton Golden, was swearing to keep out of the penitentiary, and that Henry Youtsey was swearing to get out of that institution. He denied that he ever had any connection with Youtsey, and pointed out that the testimony shows that he did not know Youtsey thirty days before the shooting.

At one point in his argument Powers declared that he was willing to rest the question of his guilt or innocence on the good or bad faith of his trip to Louisville on the morning of the day of the killing, when, as the defense testimony shows, he was en route to Western Kentucky to get up a crowd of petitioners to go to Frankfort to call on the general assembly. He declared that he would never follow the course of Youtsey by feigning a fit in the court room to avoid just punishment fixed by the law, but would fight to the last in the courts to prove his innocence.

The defendant explained his having signed the written agreement produced by the state witness, Youtsey, relative to the affidavit signed by Youtsey in the Louisville jail, declaring Powers innocent, by saying that he signed it to get an affidavit of innocence, fearing that Youtsey might some day turn up as a commonwealth witness and he would then be able to confront him with the affidavit.

The closing hour was devoted to an explanation of the pardon by Taylor to him, and to his having gathered together and taken the mountain army on January 25, 1900, to Frankfort. He declared that it was a peaceable body, and went there only on a peaceful mission. Powers closed with a word picture of his aged mother sitting in her mountain home awaiting the verdict in this case, and made a strong plea for acquittal.

Commonwealth Attorney Franklin then began the closing argument in the case on behalf of the state. He declared that Powers had made the best speech on his side of the case, but that it was full of misrepresentations of the facts and the testimony, and that Powers had repeatedly gone outside the record in his argument. He said that the reason he did not attempt to correct Powers on the errors was because he wanted the defendant to say everything to the jury that he pleased, so that he might have no cause to complain of the treatment of him by the commonwealth in this matter.

"If I did raise an objection and this man should be hanged, as I believe he will be by this jury, I should despise myself for that objection," exclaimed the state's attorney.

Mr. Franklin closed at 9:30 o'clock, and Judge Robbins gave the case to the jury with directions to retire and consider it for an hour.

The jury at 10:35 o'clock reported that no agreement had been reached.

STORM'S DAMAGE IN STATE

BASEBALL PLAYERS HURT.

Peru, Ind., August 29—A Wabash train carrying the St. Louis and Cleveland league baseball teams was wrecked early this morning at Napoleon, Ohio. Several players were hurt. Among the injured are: William Sudhoff, pitcher for St. Louis, hand cut and wrist sprained; Sydney Mercer, secretary of the St. Louis team, rib fractured; Emmett Heidrick, center fielder, St. Louis, right leg and face badly cut; Napoleon Lajoie, Cleveland, knee sprained.

NEW GOVERNOR OF MISSISSIPPI.

Jackson, Miss., August 29—The election for governor in Mississippi is over. James K. Vardman will be the next governor having defeated Critz. The returns were bitterly disappointing to the supporters of the man from Clay. In nearly every case the returns showed extraordinary gains for Vardman and in some Vardman actually carried counties that Critz carried easily before. These figures soon convinced the most ardent Critz men that the fight had gone against their favorite and by noon every vestige of hope had vanished from their bosoms.

While the majority Vardman has received is not overwhelming it is substantial enough to show a decided victory in a contest where every inch of the ground was so fiercely fought.

STORM NEAR HENDERSON.

Henderson, Ky., August 29—A storm did considerable damage to Robards, this county, and vicinity last night. The Methodist church, costing $3,000, was blown down and a large tobacco factory was demolished. Considerable damage was done to corn and tobacco.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Hazard, Ky., August 29—Lightning struck the court house killing John J. Baker. Six others were badly hurt and the building was destroyed.

BARRACKS BLOWN UP.

Constantinople, August 29—Turkish barracks at Adriemapple is reported blown up by rebels.

MARRIED IN CAIRO

PADUCAH MAN REPORTED TO HAVE WEDDED THERE YESTERDAY.

A telegram from Cairo states that James M. Spare, of Paducah, and Miss Mary A. Davis, of Henderson, Ky., were married there yesterday.

Frank Hutchinson and Miss Ora Richards, of Rives, Tenn., were also married there.

No such man as given above is known here.

and was excused until this morning.

At 11:30 this morning the jury came in and reported its verdict finding Powers guilty and fixing the penalty at death. Powers was unmoved, but Arthur Goebel collapsed utterly and had to be led from the court room. Attorney Wilson secured the time of the court to 1:30 o'clock to make a motion for a new trial and appeal.

WEEK'S NEWS IN THE BUSINESS WORLD

Bank clearings this week $661,003

Same week last year $532,065

Increase, 28,938

Business with the banks shows an increase over the same week last year in the clearings of $28,938.

Wholesale drygoods houses report an excellent trade this season somewhat ahead of last year. In groceries and other lines it is also good.

Manufacturers are still booking orders while many of them are sold up to capacity.

Nothing definite will be done in the Rex manufacturing project until Mr. C. E. Everitt, the agent, is able to resume work. The negotiations have been delayed by illness in Mr. Everitt's family, and when he is able to return to work, it is likely the finishing touches will be put on the deal.

Bradstreet's today will say: Trade conditions are still slightly uneven, due to the backwardness of crops in some sections, damage reports from others and uncertainty as to the monetary outlook. Fall trade in favorable situations compares well with a year ago, while at others a disposition to hold back is manifested. Car congestion reports are still numerous. The feeling grows that the iron trade is grounding on the bottom, as regards prices, and small buying of pig iron is more marked. Taken as a whole the situation has many elements of strength. What business is doing is of a solid character.

Paducah enjoys—we say "enjoys" advisedly—the distinction of having batted Cairo's entire staff of pitchers out of the box with the exception of Wilder, who finished out the game Thursday that marked Brockett's first defeat of its kind of the season. Yesterday four pitchers were put to the bad for the Egyptians and the Cairo boys have a decidedly better opinion of the Paducah crowd than they had when they came here.

Witt was the first to be batted out, Powers soon followed and Waggoner finished the game. Cairo led in the tallies until the sixth inning, when Paducah humped herself and made eight scores, and piled up six more in the seventh. Every member of the Paducah team made one or more hits except Wilson, who did not go in until the seventh inning. Summary:

BASEBALL NOTES.

Potts did excellent work at short yesterday.

Girard pulled down a regular cannon ball yesterday.

Benke and Long's hitting yesterday was a feature of the game. Long got two doubles and two singles out of five times up.

Paducah not only knocked two pitchers out of the box yesterday but also knocked a catcher out of the game. Orr got so bum that he had to be taken out.

Orr was taken out of the game yesterday on account of weakness from hard base running. One hit was secured off "Horseshoe" Wilson in two innings.

Tom Stubblefield, the manager of the Paducah colored team, has his men in Cairo today playing the crack St. Louis 400 team which they defeated three times here.

Cairo's new pitcher is here. He hails from Bowling Green and is named Kirby. Either Brockett or Kirby will pitch this afternoon for Cairo and Wilson or Hudson for Paducah.

The Cairo papers do not know what to make of it. They comment on the victory of Paducah, and the batting out of the box of their boasted champion, Brockett, principally in dashes and exclamation points.

Edmund's catching yesterday was first class. He stopped a very wild pitch from Orr with his bare hand and later took a quick foul tip with his bare hand, nearly breaking a finger. His throwing was excellent.

Manager Eichenberger, of the Cairo team was somewhat in the air yesterday. He says Paducah sometimes has the greatest gang of sluggers in the league and that he has telegraphed several more pitchers to try to hold Paducah down.

Cairo's supply of pitchers has been exhausted and Smith said he might pitch today. Powers was used yesterday and stated he did not know he was a twirler until necessity demanded and then it was evident that he wasn't when he faced the "Paducah bunch."

Butler, Behan and Accorsini, formerly of the Jackson, Tenn., club, have been suspended by the K. I. T. league officers for jumping their contracts. Butler and Accorsini left the club immediately after the general fight four of them had here on the river front one night not long ago.

The Hopkinsville New Era makes a few observations about Henderson which might apply here. It says: "Copeland is now captain of the Henderson team, and showed that he intends to control his men when he called Warner down for beefing at one of Umpire Clark's decisions. It was a welcome change for the Hopkinsville fans to hear a captain say "Shut up and play ball" instead of having him quit the game because the decision was against him as Jackson is in the habit of doing."

DAILY THOUGHT.

Labor to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire called conscience.—Washington.

THE WEATHER.

Rain and cooler tonight. Sunday fair.

It must have been an inventive mind that devised the exile of a Colorado priest to Kentucky for the remainder of his natural life as punishment for some real or imaginary offense. This is a new form of torture, but so long as it is not to Breckinridge county that he is to be excommunicated, it is not so bad.

It seems that some of the best and most prominent men on the Democratic list have wiggled out of the job of running for office. Either they don't like the crowd and the issue, or else they know that even if they should win the nominations they would be defeated in November when the whole people get a chance to say their say.

Let every man who still believes in the right of the people to choose their own rulers keep in mind these figures in the election of 1899, when, according to Mr. Goebel himself, if there was any stealing, the Republicans did not possibly do the stealing: for, 193,714; Goebel, 191,331; and, 12,140. That is the blot on Democratic 'scutcheon, and it cannot be wiped out.—Louisville Post.

Colonel Morris K. Belknap, the Republican candidate for governor, is a business man whose success makes him worthy of the endorsement of every business man in the state. He will undoubtedly be one of the best and most progressive governors the state ever had, and many business men all over the state, independent of politics, will vote for him. "I have voted the Democratic ticket all my life," said one of Paducah's best known and most prosperous business men the other day, "but I'm going to vote for Colonel Belknap for governor. I'm tired of this everlasting hurrah and politics and think it's time our public officers were doing something for the state and people besides spend their money with reckless prodigality, and will help put in a good business man." There are many other Democrats of the same opinion who will also vote for Colonel Belknap in November.

The Democrats have always insisted on taking politics into the board of education in Paducah. For years nearly every member of the board has been a Democrat, and the Democrats dispensed the good jobs to Democrats or the friends and relatives of Democrats, and gave to Democrats all the work there was to do for the educational department of Paducah. Yet the Democrats claim that the Republicans introduce politics into the board of education, because the Republicans sometimes see fit to criticize the official acts of the board. Republicans of Paducah recently, owing to claims of Democrats that they want to keep the board of education free from politics, proposed that each party nominate but half a ticket for the board, insuring the election of six Republicans and six Democratic trustees. This would virtually clinch the non-political feature of the board the Democrats professed to desire, but they wouldn't agree to it. Although protesting that they want to keep the board free from politics, they refuse to agree to six men of some other party or to do anything else to obtain it, and say they must have whole hog or none. It looks, however, as if it will be none this time.

The Louisville Herald delivers a hot roast to Charles J. Howes, the young man who assaulted its reporter at Frankfort. It claims that Howes some time ago attempted to extort from Weaks Brothers, of Paducah, $10 for furnishing information that should be, and usually is, given upon application by state officials. The information asked was a list of fire insurance companies doing business in the state, according to the Herald, and upon protest of Weaks brothers, who had been accustomed to getting the information free, the young man is alleged to have reduced his price from $10 to $2. The matter was finally referred by the firm to the governor, and then to the secretary of state and the information was finally furnished free as it should have been at first. The only excuse offered so far as known, is that the application of the Paducah firm should have been made to the insurance department. The young man who demanded the $10 doubtless, however, knew this as well as any one else did, and could have turned the request over to the proper department as easily as his superiors subsequently did. It would be very interesting to know to what extent the Democratic administration in Kentucky has practiced these grafts, and others to the detriment of the taxpayers of the state and to the people who expect a good and progressive government, but it will probably never be known, especially when the state records are denied reporters.

A WORM KILLER.

J. A. J. Montgomery, Puxico, Wayne county, Mo., writes: "I have little twin girls, who have been bothered with worms all their lives. I tried everything to relieve them, which failed until I used White's Cream Vermifuge; the first two doses brought four worms from one of them; the next two doses, twelve, one of them measuring twelve inches; the other child was only relieved of four worms. It is a most excellent medicine." White's Cream Vermifuge is good for children. It not only destroys worms, it helps the child to perfect growth, wards off sickness.

The cars were run until nearly midnight and many hundred people had to walk as the cars were too solidly packed. This is one of the biggest days the street car people have had in many years.

CHEMICAL ANALYSIS

Peruna is Calculated to Restore the Function Health.

MILLER, CHEMIST.

PROF. L. J. MILLER.

Prof. L. J. Miller, late Professor of Chemistry and Botany of the High School of Ypsilanti, Mich., writes from 3327 N. Clark Street, Chicago, Ill., as follows:

"As several of my friends have spoken to me of the favorable results obtained through the use of Peruna, especially in cases of catarrh, I examined it most thoroughly to learn its contents.

"I found it composed of extracts of herbs and barks of most valuable medicinal qualities combined with other ingredients, delicately balanced, calculated to tone up the system, restore the functions and procure health.

"I consider Peruna one of the most skillfully and scientifically prepared medicines, which the public can use with safety and success."—PROF. L. J. MILLER.

SUIT ON POLICY

THE PADUCAH TOWING CO. SUES FOR LOSS OF BARGE.

Attorneys Campbell & Campbell yesterday afternoon late filed a suit for the Paducah Towing company against the Providence Washington Insurance company of Providence, R. I., to force the payment of an insurance policy.

The Paducah Towing company had a barge, the Lelia, which was sunk at the mouth of the Obion river in the Mississippi river, and the company refused to pay the claim, the accident having happened last February. The towing company finally resorted to law to secure the policy payment amounting to $1,337.65.

Hon. Joseph H. Ridgeway, Secretary of the American Anti-Treat Society, writes the following letter from the Grand Central Hotel, St. Paul, Minn.:

"It is with great pleasure that I endorse Peruna as an honest medicine, competent to do all its claims. I have used it several times and know of nothing that cures so completely, and at the same time builds up the system.

"I have recommended it to a number of my friends and always feel that I do them a service for I know how satisfactory the results invariably are. I only wish every family had a bottle—it would save much sickness and doctor bills."—Joseph H. Ridgeway.

"Feel Better Than for Five Years."

Mr. James B. Taylor, Roberts, Ind., writes:

"I am at the present time entirely well. I can eat anything I ever could. I took five bottles of Peruna, and feel better now than I have for five years. I have doctor'd with other doctors off and on for fifteen years, so I can recommend your medicine very highly for stomach troubles. I take great pleasure in thanking you for your free advice and Peruna."

SOME OLD TIMERS

Tennessee Families go West to Locate.

Pass Through in Three Wagons—Twenty-seven in the Crowd.

A unique outfit passed through the city today and crossed the river. It was a caravan of movers consisting of three wagons and one pack, in which were three families, of three husbands, three wives and 21 children. Three weeks ago they left Blount county, Tenn., on the border of North Carolina, with their teams, bound for the Indian territory.

They will be on the road about ten weeks before reaching their destination. It was an old-time sight to see such a crowd of men, women and children in their wagons all covered in dust and making such a long journey. The object of their trip is to go West and get homes for their children, but it is doubtful if their dreams will ever be realized.

COULD COOK

BUT COULDNT' EAT.

A man who has seen many years sailing as cook on the "Inland Seas," as the Great Lakes are called, has learned a thing or two about food as the following story shows:

"I am a cook on the Great Lakes and have for five years suffered more than pen or tongue could tell from stomach trouble and have taken medicines enough to float the boat I sail in, and yet without any relief from pain.

"There were long stretches of time when I could not even keep milk or wine or the lightest kind of food on my stomach and I had fallen away from 145 to 105 pounds in less than two years. I saw so much in the newspapers about your food Grape Nuts that one day I decided to try it although without the least hope of success.

"So I bought a package in Cleveland and made the trial and my stomach was so cranky I was afraid to try more than one teaspoonful with a little milk. To my surprise I kept it on my stomach without any bad feelings and at the end of an hour I knew it had digested and gone to the right spot so tried two teaspoonfuls more with the same result. And now for the last seven months I have lived almost entirely on Grape Nuts where before I simply lived on medicines which consisted principally of opiates that relieved me for a time but shattered my nerves and weakened my stomach.

"Soon after I began Grape Nuts I gave up all medicines for I saw that Grape Nuts was remaking me. Now my nerves are back in their proper shape and my stomach is so strong I can eat almost any kind of food without any suffering whatever.

"It may interest you to know that your food is very fine in cases of seasickness for in this line it has no equal. In many cases of very rough water I have given Grape Nuts to people on my boat who were seasick, when the sight of even coffee would be unbearable, but a few teaspoons of Grape Nuts prepared with only water was taken and more asked for and given with perfect results.

"You never saw two healthier or happier youngsters than my two grandchildren who eat nothing else for breakfast or supper but Grape Nuts. There are two of the other men on my boat besides myself who eat nothing else but Grape Nuts for breakfast. Had it not been for this perfect food I would now be dependent on my relatives for support. The fellows on the boat make fun of me when they see me coming along with my little yellow package but I guess under the circumstances I can afford to laugh with them."

THEATRICAL WORLD.

At the Kentucky next week:
Monday night: Mr. Jolly of Joliet, with Mr. Eddie Garvie and a big musical company.

Tuesday night: Dora Thorne.

This season the box office hours has been changed, from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m., and from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m., and today the new order was inaugurated.

Prof. Wm. Deal and his most excellent orchestra, will again furnish music for The Kentucky, and promises many new overtures during the coming season.

Hermann, the great, who comes to The Kentucky soon, has captured all the big things in the way of sensational illusions in Europe and next season appears in an entirely new programme of magic and mystery.

Seats went on sale today with a rush for Monday night's opening of The Kentucky's regular season, when Eddie Garvie, in "Mr. Jolly of Joliet," supported by a big company, will be the attraction. One of the old time representative audiences is expected, and a pleasant surprise awaits the patrons of The Kentucky, as the house has all been freshened up, and repainted, and with the blaze of the thousand electric lights, handsomely dressed and beautiful women, with the sweet strains of the orchestra, and the excitement of the opening of the season, when every body that is worth while will be there, will make it indeed a pleasant evening.

Many improvements in the service parade, an' helped to git up the big top. Had all the rest o' the time to meself, exceptin' to keep an eye on the dogs. 'Twas a snap.'

"Well, I should say so! You beat me. Got anything now?"

"Oh, yes! I'm goin' out playing dates with my partner. We've got a pretty stiff knock-about turn. What you doin'?"

"Say, Jack, I got a great act. I was out eatin' fire in the kid show with the great Consolidated, London, Paris and St. Petersburg Syndicate Circus and Allied shows all summer after the Tom show closed, till the sheriff caught up with us and laid down on the big top out in Xenia, Ohio; but my new act's a corker. I'm out doin' the strong man in a hall show."

"That so? What you call yourself?"

"That's what catches 'em. I got the swellest name yet. I call myself 'The Marvelous Human Shadow,' an' my act's the hit o' the show."

This is the kind of character Edward Garvie will impersonate in "Mr. Jolly of Joliet," the clever musical comedy by Chas. Newman.

The powerful love romance, Dora Thorne, a dramatization of Charlotte M. Brearly's, (or perhaps the gifted authoress is better known as Bertha M. Clay) famous novel of the same name is to be presented at The Kentucky on Tuesday night. In its dramatic form, "Dora Thorne" has gained in popularity; the novel was utterly devoid of comedy or touches of light and shade, but the dramatists has brought

OUTING SPOTS IN THE NORTHWEST

There are many places in the country of the Northern Pacific, some inexpensive, others better and more expensive, where one can spend the summer days pleasantly and healthfully. Among these are Walker in the Leech lake country, and Detroit and Battle Lake in the Lake Park region in Minnesota; Eaton's ranch, near Medora, N. D.; Hunter's Hot Springs in the Yellowstone valley, and Missoula and the Bitter-root valley in Montana; Lakes Pend d'Oreille and Cour d'Alene, Idaho; North Yakima in Eastern Washington, and Green River Hot Springs in the Cascades; Tacoma, Seattle, Port Townsend, Port Angeles and Victoria on Puget Sound, and many places along the Columbia river and on the Pacific Ocean from Portland as a center.

Those east of the Mississippi who wish a decided change should go to the Rockies or the Puget Sound and Columbia river and sea coast country. We can only hint at these things here, but write us giving particulars as near as you can, and we will try to give you the needed information to enable you to find what you want. And don't forget that Yellowstone Park is the chief of all tourist shrines.

to marry."

"Salins have pity, M'sr Williams?"
"I want to ask you some questions."
"Bring her down to the fire. Come, dear child," said Mme. Ursule, coaxing Eagle. "Nobody is there. The bedrooms can never be so warm as the log fire, and this is a bitter evening."

The family room was unlighted by candles, as often happened; for such an illumination in the chimney must have quenched any paler glare. We had a few moments of brief privacy from the swarming life which constantly passed in and out.

I placed Eagle by the fire and she there obediently while I talked to Mme. Ursule apart.

"Was her mind in this state when she came to you?"

"She was even a little wilder than she is now. The girls have been a benefit to her."

"They were not afraid of her?"

"And who could be afraid of the dear child? She is a lady—that's plain. Ah, M'sr Williams, what she must have gone through!"

"Yet see how happy she looks!"

"She always seemed happy enough. She would come to this house. So when the Jordans went to Canada Pierre and I both said, 'Let her stay.'"

"Who were the Jordans?"

"The only family that escaped with their lives from the massacre when she lost her family. Mme. Jordan told me the whole story. They had friends among the Winnebagoes who protected them."

"Did they give her their name?"

"No, the people in La Baye did that. We knew she had another name. But I think it very likely her title was not used in the settlement where they lived. Titles are no help in pioneering."

"Did they call her Madeleine?"

"She calls herself Madeleine."

"How long has she been with your family?"

"Nearly a year."

"Did the Jordans tell you when this change came over her?"

"Yes. It was during the attack when her child was taken from her. She saw other children killed. The Indians were afraid of her. They respect demented people; not bit of harm was done to her. They let her alone and the Jordans took care of her."

The daughter and adopted daughter of the house came in with a rush of outdoor air and, seeing Eagle first, ran to kiss her on the cheek one after the other.

"Madeleine has come down!" said Marie.

"I thought we should coax her in here some time," said Katarina.

Between them, standing slim and tall, their equal in height, she was yet like a little sister. Though their faces were unlined, hers held a divine youth.

"Paul has come," Eagle told Katarina and Marie. Holding their hands, she walked between them toward me and bade them notice my height. "I am his cloud mother," she said. "How droll it is that parents grow down little while their children grow up big!"

Mme. Ursule shook her head pitifully. But the girls really saw the droll side and laughed with my cloud mother. I left the room and was tinging myself from the house to walk in the chill wind, but she caught me.

"I will be good!" pleaded my cloud mother, her face in my breast.

Her son who had grown up big while she grew down little went back to the family room with her.

Our singular relationship was established in the house, where hospitality made room and apology for all human weakness.

Nobody of that region except the firm stayed indoors to shiver by a fire. Eagle and the girls, in their warm capes, breasted with me the coldest winter days. She was as happy as they were; her cheeks tingled as pink as theirs. Sometimes I thought her eyes must answer me with her old self command, their bright grayness was so natural.

I believed if her delusions were humored they would unwind from her like the cloud which she felt them to be. The family had long fallen into the habit of treating her as a child, playing some imaginary character. She seemed less demented than walking in a dream, her faculties asleep.

It was somnambulism rather than madness. She had not the expression of insane people, the shifty eyes, the cunning and perverseness, the animal and torpid presence.

I called her Mme. de Ferrier instead of my cloud mother. A strained and puzzled look replaced her usual satisfaction. I did not often use the name, nor did I try to make her repeat my own. It was my daily effort to fall in with her happiness, for if she saw any anxiety she was quick to plead:

"Don't you like me any more, Paul? Are you tired of me because I am a cloud mother?"

"No," I would answer. "Lazarre will never be tired of you."

"Do you think I am growing smaller? Will you love me if I shrink to a take care of you?"

I swore to the Almighty that she should be my future care.

"I need you so! I have watched for you in the woods and on the water, Paul! You have been long coming back to me."

I heard Mme. Ursule mounting the stairs to see if my room was in order.

Who could understand the relation in which Eagle and I now stood, and the claim she made upon me? She clung to my arm when I took it away. I led her by the hand. Even this sight caused Mme. Ursule a shock at the head of the stairs.

"M'sr Williams!"

My hostess paused and looked at us. "Did she come to you of her own accord?"

"Yes, madame."

"I never knew her to notice a stranger before."

"Madame, do you know who this is?"

"Madeleine Jordan."

"It is the Marquise de Ferrier."

"The Marquise de Ferrier?"

"Yes, madame."

"Do you know her?"

"I have known her ever since I can remember."

"The Marquise de Ferrier! But M'sr Williams, did she know you?"

"She knows me," I asserted. "But not as myself. I am sure she knows me! But she confuses me with the child she lost! I cannot explain to you madame, how positive I am that she recognizes me any more than I can explain why she will call me Paul. I think I ought to tell you, so you will see the position in which I am placed, that this lady is the lady I once hoped

JUDGE ROBARTS

WELL KNOWN ILLINOIS JUDGE IS SERIOUSLY ILL.

We learn that the visit of Circuit Judge J. P. Robarts to Colorado has not improved his health as much as had been hoped and he is still in rather a serious condition, says the Metropolis Herald. The judge's numerous friends in this county will be pained to receive this information and all hope that a change for the better may soon occur.

Lazarre cannot leave me.

I heard her repeating this at her sewing. She boasted to Marie Grignon: "Lazarre cannot leave me! Paul taught me that."

My cloud mother asked me to tell her the stories she used to tell me. She had forgotten them.

"Eagle, say this: 'Lazarre cannot leave me!'

"Lazarre cannot leave me!"
